O. R. SELLERS, Publishers
Subscription $1.00 PER YEAR
N ADVANCE
Entered at the Lexington Post Office as second class mail matter.
Only two more weeks of football.
Still the petitions for Cowherd keep pouring in.
Kansas City may live down its present Union Depot in time.
Indian Summer, it seems, was called home before the party was over.
It is not the scarcity of money that bothers some people. It is the scarcity of collateral.
This year the independent voter had his inning. Next year it will be straight party lines.
Mercury crossed the sun Thursday morning about the same time the mercury crossed the freezing point.
The Princeton coaches are in gloom, the team is out of spirits, the student body downcast.
Still all the Yale money at 3 to 1 is being snapped up.
A University of Michigan professor has advocated making President Roosevelt king.
Michigan, it seems, is poaching on the preserves of the University of Chicago.
Governor Frantz doesn't care about riding in a carriage with Mr. Haskell. Mr. Haskell doesn't seem particularly anxious to accompany his predecessor, either.
The Mississippi Supreme Court has decided that "go to hell" is not profane, but merely unlady like. A definition of profanity from the court might be enlightening.
According to the Chicago Tribune, there are good trusts, comparatively good trusts, trusts hard to classify, comparatively bad trusts, bad trusts, exceedingly bad trusts, and the paper trust.
Judge Wallace seems to be doing more harm than good in efforts to force upon Kansas City a puritanical observance of Sunday. His recent bigoted attack on the Jews was the high Schmit.
It is instructive, interesting and grimly amusing to note that a large amount of money drawn out of the banks during the last few weeks has been found and confiscated by up-to-late burglars.
The Democratic victory in New Jersey leads many to think appropriate to have the Presidential nominee from that State.
President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton is by no means an inhospitable possibility.
Jan Kubelik, the violinist, has loving wife whose main duty is to see that his neckties match his suits and that his braids. No ties are sufficiently thick to keep out the cold. She is a great seal useful than the wives of most artists.
Where the financial compact-Sold by less shows most is in travel.
The inconvenience of getting ash and the wariness about pending money made people willing to stay at home. The scarcity of locals is apparent in the county newspapers this her home.
A LEXINGTON BOAT.
It is to be hoped that the project of securing a boat to ply the Missouri river in the interest of Lexington will not be allowed to winkle away into moonshine as many similar propositions have. That the boat would be a wonder benefit to the town there can be no doubt. As an advertising medium it would be of inestimable value; as a money saver it be a great thing to the shippers and receivers of freight. The Chester and Tennessee are filled every trip with through freight between Kansas City and St.
Louis and can do very little for us.
As an investment the plan looks good. On account of ability to handle freight cheaper than the railroads can, the boat should always have a full cargo. She hardly, however, could properly be considered a competitor of the Missouri Pacific, as that road now has more business than it can adequately handle and there would be plenty of freight for both railroad and boat.
One of the main advantages in being a river town consists in opportunities for using the river for traffic. The water supply is about the only other benefit, while as a disadvantage the river cuts off the contiguous territory of a town. Lexington draws trade only from a semicircle, since the neighboring Ray county farmers all trade at Lexington Jct., Hardin or Richmond.
The river, then, ought to be used to every possible advantage and the scheme of Messrs. Hale and Loomis looks like a good thing.
COUNTY ROADS.
Another attempt to have a large meeting of the Lafayette County Good Roads society will be made at Higginsville a week from today. On October 30, it will be remembered, there was a meeting of this society at which only a small number was present. That was due largely to the fact that the weather at that time was extremely disagreeable.
The meeting next Saturday will be an important and interesting one; and it is the duty of every farmer to attend. The new road law, about which most of us have only the vaguest sort of conception, will be fully explained and discussed. That a lone ought to insure a good attendance. But there will be various other measures of importance brought before the meeting and the social feature of the gathering should appeal to everyone.
Undoubtedly Lafayette county's roads are lamentably poor and without reason. Bad thoroughfares are a losing proposition to the farmer, the merchant, the railroad and the pleasure seeker. Lafayette is in many respects one of the best counties in the state, and it should not be so far behind in the matter of roads.
Joseph Stewart and Miss Viola Wallace were married in Independence at high noon Monday, November 4, 1907. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wallace of near Bates City and is quite well known in Odessa.
The groom is a well known young farmer of the Bates City neighborhood. The Democrat printed invitations to a reception to these young people which was held at the home of the bride Monday evening.—Odessa Democrat.
Jewell Mayes, editor of the Richmond Missourian and Will Dunn, editor of the Richmond Republican shucked ten bushels of corn on the stage at the opera house in Richmond to the delectation of a large audience. Editor Mayes "Dunn" him up and was awarded a gold headed cane. Dunn got the corn.—Odessa Democrat.
Robbed.
A few days ago two sharpers went to an old German's home in Marion county, Mo., ostensibly to buy land. They learned that the old man had $3,000 in a Palmyra bank. They made the old German believe that banks were unsafe now and the best thing he could do was to draw out his money and keep it at home as they did theirs. The next day the old man went to Palmyra and drew out, over the protest of the cashier who was his friend, the whole amount $3,000. That same evening he was robbed of every dollar of it, and the old fellow is almost crazed now. Keep your money in the bank.—Concordian.

"Homeward Bound."
These were the joyful words that escaped from the lips of three of our Richmond boys as they boarded the train for home one evening not long since. They had been absent for some weeks seeking their fortunes in the heartless, crowded city.
It is no disgrace, boys, but rather wise to be able to decide that your strength is not yet sufficient for the change, and manly to acknowledge it and come home, bravely face your companions, and go to work again.
You have had your fun, to be sure, talking of the absolute necessity of getting a broken limb in order to be in line for promotion in some of these city establishments, and also of the resolutions to the effect that you had come home to die, but in fact, it is an acknowledgement, on your part, that Richmond is a pretty good place after all. You have had your lesson, and the next thing is to profit by it.
We welcome your return and hope that each of you may think it wise to anchor here, live out the best there is in you and become Richmond's foremost citizens in the years to come.—Richmond Conservator.

PISO'S CURE
A Painful Persistent Cough portends serious results if allowed to continue unchecked. Constant hacking tears the lungs and exposes the delicate, inflamed tissues to ravaging consumption. The most obstinate and advanced cough is readily relieved by Piso's Cure. No other remedy has such a soothing and healing effect upon the throat and lungs. For nearly half a century it has cured innumerable cases of coughs and colds and saved many lives. For throat and lung affections Piso's Cure is the Ideal Remedy
